

"Miss Chinese Toronto Pageant 2010" winner selected

14:44, November 29, 2010

Hilary Tam (M), 22, was crowned as the winner of the competition; second place went to Sonia Cheung (R), and Bess Yu took home third place.

The 2010 Miss Chinese Toronto competition with the theme of "Beyond the Ordinary and Creating Colorful Dreams" hosted by the Canadian-based Fairchild Television, and supported by Talentvision and Fairchild Radio finished on the evening of Nov. 26, local time. Hilary Tam, 22, was crowned as the winner, and she also won the "Most Charming" award and the "Most Photogenic Pageant" award.

Second place went to Sonia Cheung, who also won the "Beautiful Hair" award. Bess Yu took home third place. In addition, Wendy Wen was selected as "Miss Friendship," Chloe Zheng won the "Outstanding Talent" award and the "High Spirits" award, and Gail Borjiet won the "Pure Skin" award. Tam will represent Toronto and go to Hong Kong to compete for the "Miss Chinese International Pageant 2011."

Hilary Tam, 22, was crowned as the winner, and she also won the "Most Charming" award and the "Most Photogenic Pageant" award.

"By People's Daily Online"